

Full Stack Games Hub App

1. What is responsible for defining the routes of the `games` resource?

The client via the games model games.js which sets a request via the url and publishes to games ?

2. What are the the responsibilities of server.js?

To require packages, to identify the location of .js files within the directory/folders structure, to set the path to connect the database and identify its collections and to set the connection listening to the local host 3000.

3. What are the responsibilities of the `gamesRouter`?

To handle requests from the model, insert data into the database, receive and return the response / data back to the model/client.

4. Which of the games API routes does the front-end application consume (make requests to)?

games_hub.games ?